The Voice of Non-Medical Home Care in America

The Home Care Association of America (HCAOA) is the leading trade association for providers of non-medical home care. We represent 5,000 agencies and 1 million caregivers across all 50 states, giving the industry a unified voice.

MISSION

As the voice of the home care industry, HCAOA empowers members to support families, care professionals, and each other through collaboration, advocacy, and education.

VISION

Home care empowers all those in need to live their best lives, wherever they call home.

PURPOSE

To provide leadership, representation, and education for the advancement of home care and a unified voice on issues of concern within the industry.

Core Functions

Advocacy

We represent the home care industry before Congress, federal agencies, and state legislatures, shaping policy on workforce, access, and veterans care.

Education

We equip member agencies and their leaders with training, resources, and best practices to improve quality and operations.

Community

We connect agencies, suppliers, and caregivers through a national network of chapters, committees, and events.

Home Care Defined

Home care provides personal assistance with tasks of daily life, helping people live safely at home. It is not the same as Medicare-covered home health. HCAOA represents the non-medical sector. See the HCAOA industry fact sheet for details.

26,000+ home care agencies operate in the United States. It's the fastest-growing segment of American health care.

HCAOA's Membership

Our members are home care agencies of all sizes, from independent owner-operated businesses to regional and national providers. Associate members include suppliers and vendors serving the industry.
